I will say to my Soul, "Soul, thou hast not many years to sojourn on this Planet. It were well to consider what the end will be. Will it be a Leap in the Dark, or a Happy Arrival into Harbor? We must make sure, for this night thou mayest be required of me."

No. 5.—SAMSON, THE MIGHT-HAVE-BEEN

THE RED CROSS Philanthropy and Pity were Born on Golgotha's Hill

THE nation that treats the Bible as outgrown is doomed to failure. An attempt to do this has been made in Russia. Underneath her misery there is the revolt of the soul against tyranny. We should not forget the horrors of centuries past. Her method is to get rid of God and to sweep out religion. Already you have seen in Russia an autocracy of despotism more bloodthirsty than anything of the Czar's. If you get away from the Bible, you have lost the only sanction powerful enough to establish right relations between man and man. If we treat the Bible as outgrown, we are doomed and destined to failure in spite of armies, cleverness and statecraft. The Biblical conception of morality is the only conception out of which great civilizations have sprung.

"Now let us think of the conception of God that has made the great philanthropies, all those institutions whose object is to care for broken humanity, physical and mental—the cripples, the deficient and the rest.

"When did that philanthropy begin?

"Go back to the dark days of the war, when, everywhere you went, you saw men dedicating all scientific genius to the business of inventing means of destruction and mutilation; poisonous gas, and yet more poisonous gas, high explosives and yet higher.

"Did you see anything else?

"Yes; scientific genius and acumen dedicated to the business of trying to bind up wounds and save lives. The two statements are an illustration of the madness of humanity.

"The thing I am going to say is so commonplace! Under what sign was that healing ministry carried on? The red crescent? I trow not. Not even the red eagles.

"You know it was no accident, no capricious selection of a sign, but the outworking of a tremendous world truth. Philanthropy, pity, these were born at Golgotha. In the hour when humanity saw God in Christ, it wanted in love to get hold of the cripples and the deficient. If the great thing grips you, you never will say hurriedly, 'The Red Cross.'

"Sometimes I'm frightened lest we lose the significance of the name. Deny the God of Calvary, and presently you will be mastered by the machine that grinds on and on to the clatter of the refrain, 'Survival of the fittest.'

What Manner of ### LOVE

the Father hath bestowed?—1 John 3:1.

PERSONS

ought ye to be in . . . conversation?—2 Peter 3:11.

MAN

is this, that even the wind and sea obey Him?—Mark 4:4.

WE ALL know members of the great family of the Might-have-beens; perhaps some who read this will have an uncomfortable feeling that they belong to it themselves. Indeed, I fancy there are few of us who can look over the past without seeing many things that might have been done better; while an appallingly large number must write the balance on the wrong side of life's ledger because they failed to live up to their privileges and responsibilities; they belong to the Might-have-beens.

What a pitiful company they are! The Bandman who put pleasure before practice; the Songster who used his talent for self rather than God; the Company Guard who amused the children but did not get them saved; the Candidate who gave it up and stayed at home; the Officer who allowed his great opportunity to pass by; the backslider who quenched the spirit of desire to return. How bitter their regrets, and how vain; how deep their desire for another chance, and how futile. How keenly conscious they are that:

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen—

The saddest are these, 'It might have been.'"

But it is not to heap scorn upon these hearts already so sore, that I ask attention to Samson, their Bible representative, but that some soul that even now may be hesitating on the brink of folly, may be warned by the tragedy of his misspent life, and decide to take the narrow road which leads to the heights of devotion and achievement.

If ever there was a man of whom much might have been expected, surely Samson was that man. He was on a "vineyard planted with his choicest vine," yet he "brought forth wild grapes." The Bible tells of his favorable circumstances with rather remarkable details, describing even the pre-natal influences that worked in his favor. Parents conspicuous for their simple godliness strove mightily for him throughout life, and devoted brethren even invaded the enemy's camp to give his body decent burial in the grave of his fathers.

A spirit of perversity, amounting almost to madness, drove him to break through every safeguard, and throw away every blessing, with which he had been so richly endowed. His magnificent physical powers sapped by dissipation, his Nazirite vow broken by unholy companionships, repeated warnings ignored, he fell a prey to his own folly, and found himself at last blinded and a captive forced to "grind in the prison house" of his enemies. Perhaps bodily suffering and weakness taught him lessons unlearned in the days of his strength; perhaps in his blindness he saw light unseen by his natural eyes; at any rate there is a ray of comfort in the noble self-sacrifice of his death that helps us to think more kindly of him.

Can we not learn from his life that no favorable circumstances can save us from the ruin wrought by self-indulgence?

Can we not learn from his death that the most inglorious life can end with a measure of triumph, if the Might-have-been will make a consecration even unto death?—J.G.

The Family Circle

To assist in the promotion of Christian fellowship at the evening family circle, we suggest the use of the Bible portions and comments here given.

Any converted member of the family should audibly read the portions after the notes are finished and before the members disperse for the pursuits of the evening.

SUNDAY, APRIL 5th, PSALM 33: 1-11. "BLESSED IS THE MAN . . . IN WHOSE SPIRIT THERE IS NO GUILE."

In the innocent days of early childhood we were all "without guile." Open as the day, our sayings and doings gave true expression to our inner thoughts and feelings. We had not yet learned to cloak from others our true selves. Thrice blessed are they who, in spirit, have returned to this child-like sincerity, elsewhere described as "the simplicity that is in Christ."

MONDAY, APRIL 6th, PSALM 33: 1-11. "SING UNTO HIM A NEW SONG."

Some of us perhaps have been too partial to the old favorites of by-gone days. The mercies of God new every morning, should surely inspire in us a new keen sense of His goodness, and a new deep feeling of thanksgiving, so that in spirit, if not in word and tune, our praise can truly be termed "a new song."

TUESDAY, APRIL 7th, PSALM 33: 12-22. "THE EYE OF THE LORD IS UPON THEM THAT FEAR HIM."

He who "beholdeth all the sons of men" keeps under His eye in a special sense, those who "fear Him and hope in His mercy."

Nothing can befall them without His knowledge. Let us live and work to-day as under the ever-watchful, loving eye of our Father, God.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8th, PSALM 34: 1-11. "O MAGNIFY THE LORD IN ME."

David had just experienced a wonderful deliverance, hence his eager invitation. Has the Lord done great things for you? Then show forth to others, both by life and lip, His great goodness and glory.

THURSDAY, APRIL 9th, PSALM 34: 12-22. "NONE OF THEM THAT TRUST IN HIM SHALL BE DESOLETE."

With this comforting thought David closes his psalm of praise. Multitudes since his day have borne witness to its truth. God's people have had to endure loneliness, temptation, poverty, sorrow and suffering, but not one has ever been forsaken or left desolate.

FRIDAY, APRIL 10th, LUKE 23: 32-49. "FATHER, FORGIVE THEM: FOR THEY KNOW NOT WHAT THEY DO."

To love our enemies is one of the hardest lessons which the Savior teaches, and He confirmed His teaching in the moment of His great agony, with no pity for Himself. It is a sure test of our love to Him when we can forgive as He taught us to do.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11th, LUKE 23: 50-56. "JOSEPH . . . BEGGED THE BODY OF JESUS."

Hundreds of years before Isaiah had prophesied of the Messiah that He should be "with the rich in His death" (Isaiah 53:9). So the Saviour who had been poor all His life was laid by loving hands in a costly grave.

DRIVEN Gingalese Convert

A YOUNG BUDDHIST, while on a Cingalese village, about eight miles from the coast, discovered to his amazement, of The Salvation Army. He was invited to them, and, hearing for the first time of the Christian religion, he likewise gave his heart to the Saviour.

When he returned home and to his family, he found that which had taken place in his life, his father and mother will follow no new religion here. W. J. Dhal! But the young Convert remained in his old home, consequently, together with his wife and children, he was banished from home, for in Ceylon the heathen control so long as he lives.

The exiled son, who had no means of support, and his family, built a small hut in the jungle, and there he and his Salvationist friends to inform them of his predicament.

The Officer of the Corps thereupon went to a tea-planter, some distance away, and secured employment for the Convert.

Although Cingalese generally consider tea-planting beneath them, as they usually cultivate rice-fields, the young man gladly accepted the work.

The Officer tried to effect a reconciliation between father and son, but without success. The old man refused to see the Officer or allow him to hold meetings in the village. The Convert became a regular attendant at The Salvation Army Meetings in his friends' village, although he had five miles to walk to be accompanied on these excursions, and shared the hardships of the Salvationists.

Some time afterwards the Convert sent inland to buy coco-nuts. Events between which and their own village the two men were immediately attacked and

The Salvationist was so badly injured that he was taken to the native police inspector and charged with the murder of the other.

DRIVEN INTO THE JUNGLE

Cingalese Convert from Buddhism Pays a Heavy Price for Loyalty to The Saviour—And Wins

A YOUNG BUDDHIST, while on a visit to his friends in a Cingalese village, about eight miles away from his own home, discovered to his amazement, that they had become Soldiers of The Salvation Army. He was invited to attend a Meeting with them, and, hearing for the first time the beautiful story of the Cross, he likewise gave his heart to the Saviour.

When he returned home and told his relations of the change which had taken place in his life, his father angrily exclaimed: "You will follow no new religion here. We are quite satisfied with Bud-dhal!" But the young Convert remained firm to his convictions, and consequently, together with his wife and two children, he was banished from home, for in Ceylon the head of the family has full control so long as he lives.

The exiled son, who had no means of sustenance for himself and his family, built a small hut in the jungle, and then sent to his Salvationist friends to in-form them of his predicament. The Officer of the Corps thereupon went to a tea-planter, some distance away, and secured employment for the Convert. Although Cingalese generally consider tea-planting beneath them, as they usually cultivate rice-fields, the young man gladly accepted the work.

The Officer tried to effect a reconciliation between father and son, but without success. The old man refused to see the Of-ficer or allow him to hold Meetings in the village. The Convert became a regular attendant at The Salvation Army Meetings in his friends' village, al-though he had five miles to walk to and fro. His wife accom-panied him on these excursions, and she, too, embraced the religion of the Salvationists.

Some time afterwards the Convert and a Buddhist friend were sent inland to buy coco-nuts. Eventually they arrived at a village between which and their own village there was a constant feud. The two men were immediately attacked and robbed of their belongings. The Salvationist was so badly injured that he was unable to walk. They were both then taken six miles further on and brought before the native police inspector and charged with cattle-stealing.

In the middle of the night the Sergeant-Major of the Corps, having heard of the incident, hurried off to the Of-ficer's Quarters and told him what had happened. In spite of the darkness and the perils of the night, the Officer started out on his endeavor to obtain their release. There were no roads, and he had often to cut his way through thick jungle. He arrived at his destination early in the morning and went straight to the police inspec-tor, who treated him with great respect and informed him that he was taking the men to be tried at a court another six miles farther on! To the utter astonishment of the accusers, who were present, the inspector allowed the Salvationist to accompany the Officer, go-ing on ahead.

Arriving at the village where the court was to be held, the two Salvationists discovered that the magistrate was away, but the half-caste clerk of the court was present, and he most cordially welcomed the Officer, who told him the story of the case before the accusers put in an appearance. When they turned up at the court they took the oath and then gave evidence. Each contradicted the other, and the clerk remonstrated with them so severely that they trembled with fear.

The Officer engaged a lawyer, stayed the night with the clerk of the court, and then walked back to his Quar-ters twenty miles away on the morrow. A few days later, when the case was heard, the lawyer stated that the "head man of The Salvation Army" had walked twenty miles to give both men a good character.

After much contradic-tory evidence the verdict went against the prosecu-tors, who had to pay a heavy fine, in addition to which they were severely punished and made to sur-render what they had stolen!

The wonderful result of this happening was that, because of the great inter-est taken by the Officer in the release of the converted Buddhist, his native village was thrown open unconditionally to Salvation Army operations. The Convert himself was so grateful at what had been done on his be-half that he said to the Officer:

"It is customary among our people to give the eldest son to the service of the Buddhist temple. I have no boy; my children are girls; but I should like to give my eldest girl to God and The Salvation Army." The Officer tested him, but he and his wife, who were too poor to give money, had fully made up their minds to make the sacrifice.

The little girl was accepted by Headquarters, and one day, with many tears and benedictions upon her future, she was sent to assist in the Training Garrison. Later she herself entered the Work, and in time was married to a prominent Cingalese Officer. Her father, the young Buddhist Convert, became Sergeant-Major of the Corps.—I.H.Q. "War Cry."

WINNING THE WORST IN LATVIA

STRIKING VICTORIES ON ONE OF THE ARMY'S LATEST BATTLEFIELDS

The Bank that Failed

SOME time ago a widow woman living in Tai Ku, Shansi, China, thought to safeguard a sum of money which she possessed by using it to build a bank. Owing to some mistake on the part of the builders, the doors were wrongly placed, causing the feng shui (a kind of ink-giver) to be upset. As no blessing could be expected to rest upon business done in such an unlucky building, the poor widow could not find a tenant for her bank.

About this time, a Salvationist from Tai Yuan Fu, who went to work at Tai Ku, heard of the widow's plight. He had been asked by an Army Officer to look about for a property suitable for Army purposes, and as Salvationists do not concern themselves with matters of feng shui, he immediately felt this unusable bank to be just the place for our work. The widow was glad to let the Army have the use of the building, and a real Blood-and-Fire Corps has now found a home therein.

Through Dense Jungles

SOME idea of the difficulties encountered by Army Leaders when visiting outlying parts of their Territories may be gathered from the following graphic account of a journey undertaken by Colonel Jyve Veera (Evens), Territorial Commander for the Eastern Territory of India, to Assam.

The final ninety-three miles of the journey (says the Indian "War Cry"), mostly through dense jungle, up hill and down dale, stage by stage, were undertaken mainly on horseback. No wild animals, save for one small leopard, were seen on the way, although traces there were many, and of sounds not a few. The return journey was accomplished in considerably less time than the outward one. Having walked thirteen miles to a stream, they were able to embark on one of the little native boats with bamboo covering. Daggage, food, and three human beings crowded into the fore-part of one of these boats was not strictly conducive to palatial comfort, but, thanks to the efforts of the three boatmen, who toiled day and night, the hundred and fifty miles downstream were safely negotiated in thirty-eight hours. From this point the homeward journey was rapid, being done by rail and steamer.

IN Latvia, one of the Republics set up since the revolution in Russia, The Army's work continues to make satisfactory progress. At Riga, where the Territorial Headquarters is situated, eighty-one souls have sought Salvation, and thirty-five Comrades have claimed Holiness since the commencement of the year. So eager are the people to attend the Meetings that the Hall is full on every occasion, while on Sunday night it is impossible to find accommodation for the Meetings, happy in his new-found joy. He possessed a very good education and was at one time a prosperous business man.

A man who formerly held a very respectable position in the town, but because of drinking habits had been dismissed, came to the Meeting on Sunday last and was one of the seekers. His wife and child had had to leave him because he had sold up the home, and we are trying now to help him and his family.

Home of Rest for Officers at Dehiwala, Ceylon crowds that clamor to hear the truth.

The recent Converts (writes Major Johansson, who is in charge of the work) include a man who came in contact with The Army in a public-house in which he was drinking with some companions. A woman Soldier entered and asked them to buy a pamphlet entitled "Some facts about The Salvation Army." They jeered at her, but the young man, after his companions had left him, went in search of the Salvationist in order to buy a copy, but failed to find her. One evening, later, he accepted a Cadet's invitation to a Meeting at which he knelt at the mercy-seat.

On a recent Sunday night a Recruit brought her neighbor and her son to the Meeting, and both sought Salvation.

One night a ragged, dejected-looking man, clad only in an overcoat, waited for hours outside the Hall for it to open, and then, because of his wretched condition, was too ashamed to enter. He was at length persuaded to do so and during the Meeting, deeply convicted of sin, he knelt at the penitential-form. It appeared that on the following day he was being sent to prison to serve a sentence for being drunk, and he asked that Salvationists should visit him there. This was done, and the Convert, who has now been released, is attending the

At Mitau, we conducted two Meetings, the Hall being full on each occasion, and we rejoiced over twenty-six seekers at the penitential-form.

The "War Cry" is selling well. When the Cadets went out for the first time with copies, a man in one of the public-houses insisted on buying ten. One Cadet was sent to sell papers in the road in which some of her relatives, who had previously told her they would buy nothing belonging to The Army, lived. Plucking up courage she called at the house and instead of getting rebuffs she sold four "War Crys." One of the Recruits who, in dealing with a man at the penitential-form, found it difficult to make him understand the way of Salvation, solved the problem by showing him the picture on the front page of the "War Cry."

In a recent letter I referred to a lad who came to God and whose father knelt at the penitential-form the same week. The former is doing well, but the latter is still unable to grasp the true meaning of Salvation, although he continues to pray that God will give him light. His wife has left home because she says she will not stay in the house where they are going to talk about religion and save souls! Poor people! Perhaps one day, however, the lad may be an Officer for Lettland!

Mrs. Brigadier Chard was recently invited to address the ladies belonging to the British Women's Legation in Peking on "Salvation Army Activities in Peking." The Meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Teichman, at the British Legation.

Miss Joan Conquest, of Peking, China, has proved a powerful advocate of The Army in its efforts to raise funds for the opening and operation of food depots for Peking's poor. Miss Conquest undertook to raise $1,000 for this special purpose and was successful in reaching her self-imposed target in two days.

The New Zealand Territorial Congress was scheduled for the week of March 13-19th, and was to be attended by Lieut. Commissioner Unsworth as International Representative.

Novel devices were constructed at a fête held in Johannesburg in aid of The Army recently. One of these was a water clock, made by a Salvationist, which consisted of a circular pond, with a summer house in the middle, around which stood white storks. The edge of the pond was marked by the hours, the passing of which was recorded by two ducks which swam slowly round, and every five minutes a white swan completed the circle.

Commissioner Peart has just concluded a remarkably successful Congress in Chicago with Scandinavian Officers and Soldiers, in which twenty-one sessions were held.

WITH AN AGGR

"TWELVE Meetings" were last Sunday, quite marked Ensign Boshor representative. "In continued the Ensign, "Twenty-nings represent an average work in our Corps."

"It is quite apparent," the Ensign ventured, "that a great deal of your work is carried on at Institutions and Homes of the Are we to assume that this is appreciated by the inmates and wins the support of the citizens?"

"Most decidedly," our Comrade quickly rejoined. "The Army is very firmly entrenched in the affections of Kingstonians, and we number our friends among all classes. An automobile, which is only a few months old, and given for Corps purposes, is the gift of a benevolent citizen. A $4,000.00 legacy was recently willed to The Army which permitted the purchase of the Officers' Quarters, and the other day a lady friend, who is interested in the Home League took Mrs. Boshor shopping and purchased enough material to keep our Leaguers busy for some time to come. The churches also work hand in hand with The Army. Instance, the Band, on a recent evening, gave a program of music in the Anglican Church, which is the time for many years that such event has taken place."

"What about your relief Ensign?"

"It commends itself to the people. We are keeping the wolf from the door of scores of unfortunate families which have been reduced to dire straits because of unemployment and sickness. Last month's coal supply for these people cost over $200 and between twenty and thirty people were benefited. Groceries and clothing are also provided where needed. Only those who have been assisted in this manner can appreciate fully what it means. Here is a sample of the appeals which reveal how acute is the distress and how justified we are in the relief measures adopted and put into practical effect."

"Please can you arrange to us some coal? Very sorry to us but we have a three nic light and water bill to pay this which will take all we possess. The food bill for the week-end, awful sick this morning and not go to work. We only have half of coal left."

"We have many demands," the Ensign resumed. "The Army Officer is a servant to a lady telephoned from the home and enquired whether I would send her home because she could afford a taxi! Out-of-works call stantly. We provide such with and bed tickets, as most of them

AN AGGRESSIVE FORCE DOES PROGRESSIVE WORK

"TWELVE Meetings were held last Sunday," quietly remarked Ensign Boshier to a representative, "and continued the Ensign, 'twenty-nine Meetings represent an average week's work in our Corps.'"

"It is quite apparent," the representative ventured, "that a great deal of your work is carried on amongst Institutions and Homes of the City. Are we to assume that this is appreciated by the inmates and wins the support of the citizens?"

"Most decidedly," our Comrade quickly rejoined. "The Army is very deeply entrenched in the affections of Kingstonians, and we number our friends among all classes. An automobile, which is only a few months old, and given for Corps purposes, is the gift of a benevolent citizen. A $3,000.00 legacy was recently willed to The Army which permitted the purchase of the Officers' Quarters, and the other day a lady friend, who is interested in the Home League took Mrs. Boshier shopping and purchased enough material to keep our Leaguers busy for some time to come. The churches also work hand in hand with The Army. For instance, the Band, on a recent evening, gave a program of music in the Anglican Church, which is the first time for many years that such an event has taken place."

"What about your relief work, Ensign?"

"It commends itself to the people. We are keeping the wolf from the door of scores of unfortunate families which have been reduced to desperate straits because of unemployment and sickness. Last month's coal supply for these people cost over $200 and between twenty and thirty people were benefited. Groceries and clothing are also provided where needed. "Please can you arrange to send us some coal? Very sorry to ask you but we have a three months' light and water bill to pay this week which will take all we possess above the food bill for the week-end. I am awful sick this morning and could not go to work. We only have one pair of coat left."

"We have many demands upon us," the Ensign resumed. "Truly The Army Officer is a servant to all. A lady telephoned from the hospital and enquired whether I would drive her home, because she could not afford a taxi! Our-of-works call constantly. We provide such with meal and bed tickets, as most of them are worthy cases and need help."

"Is your work in the Penitentiary productive of good results?" we queried.

"Yes, it is, and to a far greater extent than it would be wise to publish. We receive many letters and requests from heart-broken mothers and wives beseeching us to interest ourselves in their loved ones. The character of our work can best be

Mrs. Boshier," we ventured to say.

"Yes," the Ensign replied, "she is very busy. Her work as Police Matron is, of course, of an extensive character, but in addition to that there are such efforts as membership in the Royal Victoria Order of Nurses, the Women's Council, the Executive of Ladies' Aid, and of the Poor Relief. These duties engage her time early and late, and then, there when they contributed the handsome sum of $200 towards the coal supply. The Home League possesses twenty-two of the most unselfish Sisters in our city. Their leaders are Secretary Mrs. McBride and Treasurer Mrs. Goodridge.

"Our Y.P. Work is in a healthy state. We have, among the youthful element of the Corps, some most promising material, and we are, by Divine aid, endeavoring to mould them into fighting Soldiers. We are proud, first of all, of our Corps Cadet Brigade, which numbers twenty. Four are Higher Grade Corps Cadets, who are taught by Lieutenant Miriam Ritchie, and the remainder are Lower Grade Cadets in the care of Mrs. Boshier. During my stay in Kingston two Corps Cadets have become Officers, one is now in the Garrison and three are preparing to enter. Their work is not confined only to their classes as they take the major portion of the Monday night meetings; they conduct a Young People's Open-Air, and some are becoming exceptionally adept in the sacred art of collecting."

"The Life-Saving Guard Troop, which is composed of twenty members, is concentrating on a study of tests—both Beginners and Proficiency—with which they are having considerable success. Their officers include Leader Mrs. Pindred and Assistant Isabel McBride. For the first time members of the troop went camping last year. And what a time they had! All the delights which the Canadian countryside holds for youth were theirs at Red Rock Camp and at Cartwright Point, and enthusiasm reading-desk; exis rise in regard to the next camping season. Corps Cadet Daisy Pindred is organizing a Sunbeam Brigade which it is hoped will be officially registered shortly."

"We are not behind in the matter of music for our young people. The nucleus of a Young People's Band is in process of formation under Bandman George Wright's leadership."

"Since Brother R. Pondridge has taken command of the Life-Saving Scouts new inspiration has been imparted. A feature of the Troop is its 'Gym' Class which made its debut at the Christmas Demonstration. Bandman Taylor and Brother Kilburn Pickering are Assistant Leader and Chaplain respectively."

"The Directory Class attendance is increasing weekly and at the present time thirty-nine attend each Sunday morning. Since the 'WIN ANOTHER' Campaign began an increase of 50 per cent, has been obtained. As an incentive to regular attendance the certificate awards are presented consistently. In a recent presentation seven first-year and five three-year certificates were given."

judged by the following:—A man was taken ill in the Penitentiary. He sent for me to visit him in the Prison Hospital, and made two requests: first, that he might be pointed to Christ; second, that it be arranged for him to die outside prison walls. His first request was soon granted, as after I had read from the Word and prayed with him he saw the Light and professed conversion. His release from the Institution was effected and when I approached the Superintendent of the City Hospital and detail, although the circumstances he gladly admitted him to the local Hospital until removed to Toronto with his sister. He was tenderly nursed and his remaining hours were made as restful as his condition would allow. I revelation brings visited him just previous to his death and felt death and felt deeply compensated for any effort expended.

"Then again, this is a sample of letters we frequently receive from anxious relatives:—
"I am writing in reference to my Aunt's boy, who has been sent to the Penitentiary. Poor Aunt, she does worry over that wayward boy who was not altogether bad but was easily led. He got into bad company which led him into serious trouble, for which he is now serving three years. He is only nineteen. I wish you would write and give her good news that Edward is learning to be a man. She has built hopes of your helping him to be good. I have already got in touch with the lad and am doing what I can."
"You have a splendid helpmeet in is her work in the Corps, much of the responsibility of which falls upon her shoulders."

"What about the Corps itself?" was our next query.

"Our Soldiers' Meeting perhaps, should be emphasized. We are attempting to develop our Soldiers in Army principles and principles and to assist them in obtaining a broader vision of our great Organization. To this end we bend every effort. Our Colors drape the corps are read from 'Rules and Regulations,' and these, although almost as old as The Army itself, break upon minds and hearts with a freshness and force which is amazing. An address, harmonizing with the subject in hand is then given and frequently a revelation brings complete surrender. Our Knee-Drill, too, is not without its encouraging features. Twenty-four were present on a recent Sunday and we have found that these early morning seasons of prayer give a decided impetus to the day's gatherings."

"Our Home League is composed of extremely generous-hearted souls, and if any branch could worthily take as its motto 'Others,' this could, for practically all its members do is for the benefit of others. To the poor, to whom many of their garments and other domestic necessities are sent, they are indeed 'friends.' To the newly-born babes they act in the capacity of benevolent mothers, providing necessary clothing. To the Corps they are as angels in disguise as was recently evidenced

ARE YOU READY FOR ANYWHERE?

Seek to do Well

"And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch."—Mark xiii. 37.

THE world is full of enemies who will lead you astray and destroy you, for time and eternity, if you do not keep a sharp look-out. Jesus Christ said you must watch—that is, you must take care.

You must take care of your soul.

The miserable failures many people make when they come to saving their souls, arise from the careless way they go about the business. The reason why so many Christians go back to the world and the Devil is because they do not take sufficient care of their souls.

There is nothing in this life that will prosper if it is not cared for. If people do not take care of their money, they will lose it; if they do not look after their business, it will go to ruin; and if you do not watch and pray, and examine yourself, your religion will soon come to grief. You must take care of yourself, my Comrade, if you want to prosper in heavenly things.

You must take care of your health for the sake of the work you can do for God.

You must take care of your mind for the same reason. In fact, you had best take care, and watch yourself at every point.

Do everything you do in your daily round of duties as well as you can. If you write, try and write as well as you can; and so with your reading, and praying, and everything else you do. Take care, and watch how you do your daily business. Seek to do your work to the very best of your ability. Always remember that what is worth doing at all, is worth doing well.

People watch you all the time, and judge The Army by the way you conduct yourself in your daily employment. So whether your work is on the farm, or in the factory, in the house, or behind the counter, in the mine, on the ship, or elsewhere, take an interest in it, do it carefully, and strive to do it to please Jesus Christ.

The only infallible way to educate your conscience is to be loyal to the measure of light and guidance granted you.

BLESSINGS THAT FOLLOW THE ANSWERED CALL

IT is wonderful to think what a covenant God here makes with us! Yes, with us: for the promises were "to Abraham and his seed," and we are "the children of Abraham by faith." "So then, they which be of faith are blessed with separation in spirit from the world, which is opposed to God, even if it includes our nearest and dearest on earth, and a strict following of the path that God shows us. At the time of Abraham's call, God did not show him the promised land—did not give him a map or description of it, or even its name—but exacted a prospective, as well as present, obedience.

We speak sometimes of surrendering "all we know, and all we do not know." That was what Abraham had to do.

Is that enough for one to know? If Abraham could only come back and tell us! But Abraham has spoken out of Paradise, and told us that if we do not believe God, neither would we believe if one rose from the dead. And yet, even that help to our faith has been granted us—Jesus rose from the dead, and told us, with almost His last spoken words to "go." "Where?" "Into all the world." He said to His Church collectively. To the individual His words mean, "Unto the land that He will show thee."

First of all, that land has a spiritual significance; you must enter into the land of "rest from inbred sin"; and then if there is a further, outward path, you will be fit to travel in it.

The going is our part. Now look at God's part, "I will bless thee." It is almost impossible to explain to one who does not know what marvels lie hidden under the name of God's blessing. Dr. Daniel Steele calls his experience of this Canaan blessing, "years on wings"; and the saints of Wesley's day used such expressions as "weighted with bliss," "filled with God," "full of His glory." God's people have exhausted language in trying to depict the joys He bestows upon His obedient children; and, finding the task beyond their power, they say with Nathanael, "Come, and see."

"I will make thee a blessing." People always want to pass on their joy to others. Get the blessing yourself, and God will make you a blessing in turn.

There is one part of the covenant that looks at first sight to be for Abraham only; but it surely is for us in our degree. "In thee shall all families of the earth be blessed." Jesus came once in the flesh through Abraham's line; and in that way He will not come again. But when God has His perfect, undisputed way with you, it will please Him to reveal His Son in you as He did in Paul. Then you will know that you have a share in this clause of the covenant, and the world will be blessed because of you.

ONE IS OUR LORD EVEN CHRIST

HAVE we ever, or shall we ever fathom the gracious personality of our common Lord? With all the instincts that we possess we have reached out to become like Him and He transcends us and all men. No wonder that men, the great and the near-great and the mass of common folk, have got completely lost when they have tried to measure that life by the usual tape lines and gauges. In majestic grandeur of sinless life we find Him among the common things of life, and because we find Him there we presume Him common like ourselves. But there is something compelling about "Christ the Lord." How He makes the very lowliest raise themselves; seeking the summit of the mountain they cannot scale! Is it any wonder that men everywhere are asking: "What think ye of Christ?" The Christ of the twentieth century! Is He any different from the Christ of the first? Of one thing we are sure, Jesus is infinitely more to our age than He was to any previous age. His life is daily becoming to us a new life. Though it is nearly twenty centuries since "One Christ," caused consternation to king and subject amid the confines of a little country; yet the world is vitally interested in Him to-day. We discover a new influence abroad, subtle, yet mighty, strange, yet penetrating, and we ask, "Whence hath this man these things?" Think of Wesley, Shakespeare, Knox and Lincoln; yet their combined influence was as a mist before the morning sunrise when compared with "even Christ." It has been said that there was only one Gladstone. True, but there may be men who in their impact upon life will be even greater than Gladstone. But never a greater than Christ. What wonder that Wesley wrote:

"Thou, O Christ, art all I want,
More than all in Thee I find."

faithful Abraham."

The conditions are plain and easy to fulfil; far easier for us than for our great father in the faith. With us the getting out from our country and kindred and father's house is, for the most part, a figurative, spiritual proceeding; and also we have a larger measure of the Spirit than had been poured out upon men in that far-back dispensation. It is a tremendous thought, when we look at the continual and vast sacrifices of Abraham in obeying God, that God has a right to expect more of us than of him, because of our far greater degree of privilege!

The conditions are these; total

For Quiet Moments

Why Not Laugh?

Why should I wear my sorrows
For all the world to see,
Why should I let life's bitterness
Cast its shadow over me?

Could I serve the Master better
If I wore a solemn face,
If I let each bitter heartache
Too plainly leave its trace?

Oh, didn't He make the sunshine,
And didn't He make the flowers,
And do the hearts that love Him
Love Him less in sunnier hours?

And His own dear face was brilliant
With the light of His love I know,
If it did not glow with that fire
Intense

Would the children love Him so?

Why not laugh, if the laugh is Kindly!
It is better than looks forlorn,
The dear Lord made the lips that Smile

As well as the lips that mourn.

"Family Prayers"

THOMAS Collins, that flame of fire, once asked of a young local preacher if he had family prayers, where he lodged. The young man replied: "We are not to cast pearls before swine, so I have never proposed it." Collins' rejoinder to this was: "Be ashamed if you have chosen a hog-sty for your home, and still more ashamed if you have vilified that home without reason. Evade duty no longer; offer to do it this very night. If the offer be refused, find a better place. Never willingly pitch your tent where you may not build your altar."

The Crimson Cord

FROM Genesis to Revelation the whole Bible is bound by a crimson cord, and is red with the sacrificial Blood.

When I see the Blood, I will pass over you (Exodus 12:13).

The Church of God, which He hath purchased with His own Blood (Acts 20:28).

Being now justified by His Blood (Romans 5:9).

We have Redemption through His Blood (Ephesians 1:7).

We are made nigh by the Blood of Christ (Ephesians 2:13).

The Blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanseth us from all sin (1 John 1:7).

Unto Him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in His own Blood (Revelation 1:5).

A Word to the Wise

LET me give a timely warning
To all people who are scoring
All advice and admonition
As they march along Life's way;
Who ignore the words of Jesus
And the laws of God, Who sees us,
That they're going to Perdition
And get closer every day.
Ev'ry sinful word that's spoken—
All the actions that betoken
There indifference, so hateful,
To the Lord of Life and Love—
All their actions—good or sordid
Are indelibly recorded
In the Book of Life, so fateful,
That is kept by God above.
Disregarding ev'ry libel
Read God's holy Book—the Bible;
For the Bible is efficient.
Fools ignore each kindly warning,
To instruct and to advise,
And they perish through their scorning!

But a word is quite sufficient
TO A PERSON WHO IS WISE.

SISTER MRS. APPEYARD

ORILLIA

SISTER Mrs. Appeyard, who was the oldest Soldier in the Orillia Corps, being convicted forty years ago,
was promoted to Glory on Saturday, March 7th, at the age of eighty-six. Owing to many physical disabilities our Comrade was unable to be active in Corps work for a number of years, but she lived a good life. When in health Sister Appeyard was a splendid worker. The Funeral Service was conducted by Ensign Larman, when a representative crowd of friends met in the Citadel to pay their last tribute to one who had "fought a good fight."
We extend our sympathies and prayers to the bereaved relatives.

"DAD" HASTINGS

WYCHWOOD

"DAD" HASTINGS has received the Call to Higher Service. Of late his sickness confined him to his bed, but his words of advice brought a halloved influence from the sick chamber to the Corps.
Our Comrade was a Young People's

Sergeant-Major for eight years at Barrow in Furness Corps (England) and there are to-day numbers of Officers in the Field through the instrumentality of his efforts. Also, in an unguarded moment, he lost his hold upon God.
Commandant Urquhart, now of St.
John's, Newfoundland, while stationed at Wychwood, on his "Cry" rounds, found out that "Dad" was an ex-Salvationist.
He got him to come to the Meetings,
where he found peace once again.

The Funeral was of a most impressive character. The first service was held in the home, with Adjutant Johnson conducting, then the remains were borne to the Hall, where a large number gathered, including Brigadier Burrows, Adjutant Snowden, Sergeant-Major Dean and Treasurer White, who spoke of his life.

Pathetic were the moments when, at the close of the service, relatives and friends took their last farewell. The Band, under Bandmaster Majury, disposed of the music.

At the cemetery the commitment was impressively carried out by Adjutant Johnson.

At the Memorial Service, Sister Mrs.
Majury, Brother Goodenough and Trucker spoke, and after Adjutant Snowden's address, two relatives of the deceased kneel for restoration, and a large number stood around The Flag to consecrate their lives to God.

BROTHER WILLIAM MARSHALL

EARLS COURT

BROTHER WILLIAM MARSHALL
has passed to his reward, after nearly thirty years of service for God. Twenty-five years ago, while stationed in the East, Mrs. Thompson and myself were privileged to be billeted at Brother Marshall's home in St. John,
N.B., and for many years, at the Fall
Councils, their door was open to us.

From my first recollection of him until a few days before he passed away, he was always the same—happy and joyful in the Lord. Few people there any who kept up the pace as he did.
He really enjoyed his religion, and very seldom conversed on things of the world.
His great delight was to tackle the sinner about his soul, and he used as his weapon the Bible, for he knew the Word of God; he read it to his family, he read it to strangers, in fact, very few people who got in touch with Brother Marshall missed getting a portion of the Bible upon which to meditate.

The old Corps that brought him to the Fold was St. John Ill., N.B. Many a time after a hard fought, weary Marshall he would be found with his "old pal," Sergeant-Major Marney, praying on the street at midnight for the souls of the people.

For twenty-eight years Brother Marshall managed the press for the St. John, N.B., "Daily Telegraph," but after his conversion he felt that it was not the right thing to work on the Sabbath, so he resigned and left himself in the hands of God. Using his own words, he said,
"While God is arranging another job, for me, I'll go and do a few weeks' Meetings in this country." On the morning he was to go he missed the train. In the meantime a telegram had arrived at the Divisional Headquarters from Toronto, asking if they knew of any one who could run a Duplex press, and as Brother Marshall had worked at a job of this kind for so many years,

a messenger, was dispatched to his house.
When he was told what was needed, he said, "I see now why I missed
my train." That night found him on the train for Toronto, and for fifteen years he managed the press printing "The War Cry" at Territorial Headquarters.

Brother Marshall was a tireless worker for God. I have seen him really wear himself out and after a rest he would be at it again. He went just as he sold God was going to take him. He always believed and felt, too, that he would go quickly when he went, so as to spare his dear wife and family any great worry. One minute before his promotion he said to his son, "It is ten o'clock," and like the snapping of a tree twig he passed into the presence of his Master.

May God bless the bereaved wife and family.
G. F. THOMPSON,
Staff-Captain.

MONTREAL MEN'S SOCIAL SIFTINGS

MAJOR AND MRS. Byers, accompanied by members of the Social Staff, have visited the seven city Corps; a number of penitents came forward.

The "WIN ANOTHER" Campaign was taken up by the individual members in real earnest.

Major Byers conducts a week-night Bible Class, which is increasing in members weekly.
The attendance should soon reach one hundred.

Two women were recently found living near the Quarters of the Superintendent in poor circumstances. Their husbands were out of work, and no garments were ready for expected babies. Mrs. Byers investigated and supplied the needful clothing.

Commandant Trickey received a letter from the Secretary to the Bishop of London, England, thanking him for interest taken in a special deportation case.

A "lifer" was handed over to the Commandant
by the Warden of the Penitentiary recently.
This man is now one of the best workmen at the Industrial; he has been converted and is a Soldier. There are a number of remarkable testimonies of grace working at The Army's Industrial Stores, some of whom were converted during the "WIN ANOTHER" Campaign.

Two men recently knelt at an improvised penitent-form at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary; an unusual sight at this great institution.

Those gathered at the Recorder's Court recently heard from the bench an eulogy of the work carried on by Commandant Trickey, Ensign Thomas and Captain Davies.

For several weeks Commandant Parsons and Captain Drummond have been giving on an average of six hundred free meals weekly to unemployed men. On Sunday morning over three hundred men attended a service, and a lenten service is given on Wednesday evenings.

Commandant Tuck and Lieutenant Powell, of the Industrial, recently took part in a service at the Penitentiary, and the Chaplain, Rev. Mr.
Goddard, wrote expressing his appreciation.

Captain Mathieson has special responsibility in connection with a daily noon-day song service for the employees at the Industrial.

WASTED HIS GOODS

IT IS related of Carlyle, that as he one day approached a street crossing he suddenly stopped, and stooping down, picked something out of the mud at the risk of being run over by one of the many carriages in the street. With his bare hands he brushed the mud off and placed the substance on a clean spot on the curbstone. "That," said he, in a long as sweet and in words as beautiful as the person who tells the incident ever heard, "is only a crust of bread.
Yet I was taught by my mother never to waste and above all, bread, more precious than gold. I am sure that the little snatches will get nourishment from a bit of bread."

Mrs. Burton, who were with us for the week-end, taking part. The Memorial Service was a time of great blessing, one soul seeking Christ.

BROTHER & SISTER GLEW

VERDUN

FOLLOWING closely upon the death of Sister Mrs. Glew, a devoted and faithful Soldier of many years' standing, came the promotion to Glory of her husband. The Funeral and Memorial Services were conducted by Colonel Walton and Commandant Trickey.
Brother Glew was present at a Musical Festival given by the Montreal I. Band in Verdun on the Thursday evening and on Saturday morning he was suddenly stricken while asleep. Many beautiful tributes were paid by Comrades.

REMINISCENCES

By Colonel Cloud

OUR next field of labor was Yorkshire. We revelled in Salvation Army warfare there. Next came Liverpool and then followed Scotland. The General appointed us to the Glasgow Division, which was and still is, unique in opportunity.
The work made rapid progress, so much so that the Glasgow Division was divided into two; North and East. We were left in charge of the East, and spent three and a half years in Scotland.

A happy and fruitful term in command of the Birmingham Division was followed by an appointment to the command of Wales which was constituted as a Sub-Territory. What an inspiring stay we had in lovely Wales! We loved the country; we loved its people; and especially did we delight in the robust Salvationism of The Army's vigorous representatives. Truly our flag flies high in little Wales. The valleys are awakened by our music and the hills echo the inspiring strains. Welsh Salvationists know how to fight, and to be associated with such tenacious battlers in our great crusade is to be immensely enthused.

We went into Wales with two Divisions and left four. One of the secrets of our success in the Princepalty lay in the fact that realization that 45 per cent. of the population speak the language, we made good use of Salvation Army Officers who could speak the Welsh language, and God blessed us. We introduced a Song Book of 400 S.A. songs, Welsh and English. Then, too, as far as the young people were concerned we inaugurated Welsh classes in the Company Meetings. This solved a problem that had existed for a long time.

It was while in Wales that we received orders for Newfoundland, and two years ago we landed in St.
John's to lead on the brave-hearted
Salvationists of the Sea-Girt Isle.
God has wonderfully blessed us thus far, and should, in the years ahead, opportunity come our way again for the ventilation of more reminiscences, not a few bright and inspiring mentions will be made of Comrades met and battles won in Newfoundland.

EUROPE AND INTERNATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

IMPORTANT APPOINTMENTS

WE ARE able to announce this week further changes affecting Officers holding positions of heavy responsibility at International Headquarters.

The General has, pending the conclusion of other plans, appointed Lieut. Commissioner William Howard Acting International Secretary for Europe. The Commissioner is familiar with most of the Territories in Europe, having served for more than twenty-five years in a number of them in various leading capacities. His health has, we are glad to say, considerably improved during the past year.

The appointment of Colonel Bouwe Vias, Chief Secretary in Holland, to be Assistant International Secretary for Europe, will be a decided gain to I.H.Q. The Colonel brings to his new work not only valuable experience gained in Continental appointments, but in Army warfare in other parts of the world.

Lieut. Colonel John Spencer, Chief Secretary at Migration House, is transferred to The Salvation Army Assurance Society, as Chief Accountant, under Commissioner McAlonan. Almost all of the Colonel's service has been associated with The Army's Social Work, including the Chief Secretaryship both of the Men's and Women's Operations.

Lieut. Colonel Charles Hammonds, who, for more than ten years, has been Secretary for the Reliance Benefit Society, is appointed Chief Secretary for Migration Work, under Commissioner Lamb. The Colonel has more than a passing acquaintance with the work at Migration House, for he was associated with the Department for a number of years prior to his last appointment.

Lieut. Colonel Clifford Grinstead, Chief Accountant at the Head Office of The Salvation Army Assurance Society, is appointed Secretary to the Reliance Benefit Society. This will be somewhat new ground for the Colonel, whose Army experience has, for a considerable period, been concerned chiefly with Publishing, Outfit, and other Army supplies, one feature of his responsibility being the oversight of the Musical Instrument Section at St. Albans. He has also served with our Flag in Germany.

May God give His own blessing to each of our dear Comrades, and to their devoted helpmeets, in these important rearrangements.

TERRITORIAL Terstities

WE ANNOUNCE, with gratitude to God, that so splendidly maintained has been the improvement in the Chief Secretary's health, that he will be able to undertake his Bermudian Campaign. He is programmed to leave Toronto on Monday evening, March 30th, and will be accompanied by the Editor. Comrades will please continue to remember the Colonel at prayer time.

Dr. Zimmerman (dentist), known to many-day Salvationists of this Territory as Captain Zimmerman, passed away recently in Toronto. We tender to relatives of the deceased our sincere sympathy.

We congratulate Ensign and Mrs. Bond, Huntville, on the arrival of a daughter, born on March 20th.

Captain Cone, late of the Field, who has for several months been on the sick list, is appointed to Bethesda Hospital, London.

Adjutant Atkinson, of the Immigration Department, is laid aside. Adjutant weeks' condition is somewhat encouraging. Captain Faulkner, of Kingsville, is still very poorly. The prayers of our readers for these Comrades are requested.

Lost—while motoring between Toronto, London or Stratford, a black leather case, containing Band Journals belonging to West Toronto Band and some personal letters. Will kindly return to Adjutant Condie, 86 Annette St., Toronto.

Good Friday activities for the Montreal Comrades will take the form of a monster parade, in which all Corps will participate. Following this a United Holiness Service will be held in the No. 1 Citadel, conducted by Lieut. Colonel Walton, and all Staff and Field Officers will assist. For the evening each Corps will have a Meeting in its respective Hall.

We learn from the Chicago "Cry" that following his advance in rank, Adjutant Tom Laurie has been gazetted as Assistant Financial Secretary for the Central Territory. Adjutant and Mrs. Laurie rendered excellent service in Canada East Territory and many readers will join with us in congratulating them.

Sister Mrs. Hastings and family, of Wychwood Corps, desire to thank those who have made kind expressions of sympathy in the hour of their bereavement.

Bandman Peter Ratcliffe of Edmonton, Alberta, has owed to his reward following a period of illness. Our Comrade, who was a Cadet in the Toronto Training Garrison in 1915-16—the "Dreadnought" Session—was known to many Comrades of this Territory.

Word has been received that Colonel and Mrs. Bond will arrive in Vancouver from Australia on Wednesday, April 8th. The Colonel, as previously announced, has been appointed as Editor of "The War Cry" for the Central Territory, U.S.A., with Headquarters in Chicago.

During his week-end Campaign at Windsor, I. Colonel Otway conducted a Meeting with the men of the Hotel. The building is filled to capacity each night.

A Hall has been purchased at New Liskeard and will shortly be opened. Tenders have also been accepted for the erection of a new Citadel at Trenton.

Major P. B. Wilson, Vice-President of Spanish Pulp and Paper Mills, Sault Ste. Marie, who presided at a lecture given recently by Colonel Millar in the No. 1 Citadel, made the statement that, "Anyone giving to The Army should not feel that they were honoring The Army, but rather that they were honored in being allowed to assist in so noble a cause."

The unemployment situation in Toronto has improved very considerably and consequently fewer men are availing themselves of the free meals which are now being distributed four days a week. 1,500 meals were given out last week.

News is to hand from St. Catherine's of the death of Mr. Taylor, the father of Mrs. Captain Eacott, of China. We extend sympathy to Mrs. Eacott and to other bereaved relatives.

EXCHANGE. Mrs. H. Langford, of Box 110, Drumheller, Alberta, desires to exchange a Western "War Cry" for an Eastern "War Cry" each week. Will any Comrade who cares to take up the offer, write her direct.

COMMISSIONER MOVEMENT

LAST week the Commissioner, gaged in a busy campaign, with a view to interest in the for Denial effort.

On Monday, accompanied by Colonel Adhy, he journeyed to Hamilton, where a meeting was held at night. Secretary was also present. Two Sessions of Officers were held on Tuesday: 1. Citadel, and at night.

BRITISH SELF-DENIAL

Word has been received that the British Territory achieved a glorious Denial victory, raising £1,000; an increase on last year's total. We heartily congratulate our British Comrades on this splendid triumph in our fortifications.

Major met the undersigned who enjoyed this so much. Major Bristow, unable to attend any of the meetings, owing to a severe attack of grippe, but Mrs. Bristow introduced the visiting Comrades.

The following day the undersigned travelled to London, where they met the Officers in and conducted a Union Meeting at night.

A similar program was held in Hamilton on Thursday. At these Councils and Commissions dealt with the Self-Denial Campaign, of the happy advances territory-wide. An atmosphere of hopefulness blossoms, and we should expect are very bright effort.

OAKVILLE

THE enterprising Oakville was favored by our Leader on Tuesday, March 24th. Meeting was a lively one, which torch-lights and ingly advertised the fact. Open-Air too were the gripping testimonies of Comrades who have only The Army's ranks, but to make staunch Salvationists added attraction was a gaudy Band, numbered dozen instrumentalists.

The Comrades and Oakville were not slow to importance of a Meeting, after as evidenced to Oakville; neither were they greeting which they Commissioner. Following Staff-Captain Wallace's introduction by Brigadier the Commissioner made the progress which was every hand. He also complimented Captain A. The Commissioner's address followed words by Adhy, was of a helpful was mightily used by God in imparting blessing.

THE FIELD SECRETARY

On Saturday and Sunday, 14-15th, Colonel Miller Meetings at Chatham. The hall has been remodelled and increased. A battling was up with victory and nine.

COMMISSIONER'S MOVEMENTS

LAST week the Commissioner engaged in a busy series of gatherings, with a view to stirring up interest in the forthcoming Self-Denial effort.

On Monday, accompanied by Lieut. Colonel Addy, he journeyed to Walkerville, where a rousing Soldiers' Meeting was held at night. The Field Secretary was also present and spoke. Two Sessions of Officers' Councils were held on Tuesday in the Windsor Citadel, and at night the Commissioner met the united Soldiers

BRITISH SELF-DENIAL

Word has been received that the British Territory has achieved a glorious Self-Denial victory, raising £182,000; an increase of £10,000 on last year's total.

We heartily congratulate our British Comrades. Their splendid triumph will inspire us in our forthcoming Effort.

The Commissioner met the united Soldiers who enjoyed this service to the utmost. Major Bristow, the D.C., was unable to attend any of the Meetings owing to a severe attack of the grippe, but Mrs. Bristow warmly introduced the visiting Officers in his stead.

The following day the party journeyed to London, where the Commissioner met the Officers in the afternoon, and conducted a United Soldiers' Meeting at night.

A similar program was carried out in Hamilton on Thursday.

At these Councils and Meetings the Commissioner dealt largely with the Self-Denial Campaign, and also spoke of the happy advances in Army work territory-wide. An atmosphere of decided hopefulness blessed all gatherings, and we should say that prospects are very bright for a record effort.

OAKVILLE

THE enterprising town of Oakville was favored by a visit from our Leader on the night of Tuesday, March 24th. Preceding the Meeting was a lively Open-Air in which torch-lights and posters strikingly advertised the fact of the Commissioner's visit. Featuring this Open-Air too were the simple, yet gripping testimonies of several converts who have only lately joined The Army's ranks, but who bid fair to make staunch Salvationists. An added attraction was the newly-organized Band, numbering about a dozen instrumentalists.

The Comrades and Friends of Oakville were not slow to recognize the importance of a Meeting of this character as evidenced the well-filled Hall, neither were they chary in the greeting which they tendered the Commissioner. Following prayer, by Staff-Captain Wallace White, and an introduction by Brigadier Burrows, the Commissioner made reference to the progress which was apparent on every hand. He also personally complimented Captain and Mrs. Ellis.

The Commissioner's address, which followed words by Lieut. Colonel Addy, was of a helpful character and was mightily used by the Spirit of God in imparting blessing.

THE FIELD SECRETARY

On Saturday and Sunday, March 14-15th, Colonel Miller conducted the Meetings at Chatham. Here the Hall has been remodelled, and interest has increased. A battling week-end wound up with victory and nine converts.

GOD is LOOKING at YOU!

BY COLONEL LANGDON, Sub-Territorial Commander, Scotland

"THOU GOD SEEST ME." is a passage from the Bible that is often used by parents and others in such a manner as to create a totally wrong impression of God. Hence many people conceive God as being ever on the watch to pounce upon the wrongdoer in a revengeful spirit.

The true meaning of the Old Testament story is that God took heed of the extremity of Hagar, the outcast, whose little son, Ishmael, lay perishing of thirst in the desert, and directed her to a spring of water, and this led her to exclaim, "Thou God seest me!"

Sin, we know, cannot go unpunished, yet the character of God, as revealed in Christ, is that of graciousness, long-suffering, compassion and wondrous mercy. "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them," or, as Job says, "He looked upon men, and if any say, I have sinned, and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not, he will deliver his soul from getting into the pit, and his life shall see the light."

"He looketh upon men." I wonder what He sees in you. Is it a sorrow for sin? Is it a response to His claims? Or is it a spirit of indifference, love for the world, the fascination of pleasure, or an undue regard for those trifling things of time which cannot satisfy? He looks for the contrite spirit that cries out, as David did, "I have sinned against the Lord." For "if we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." It was said to David, "The Lord hath put away thy sins; thou shalt not die."

"He looketh upon men," some of whom are trying vainly to cover up their sins—it may be under a cloak of religious profession, or of respectable and moral life. His Word tells us, "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper, but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall obtain mercy."

Backslider, God is looking upon you. You may not have wandered far away, but, like Peter, you have denied Him. May His look move your heart and melt it, as it did Peter's! It may be you have gone into the far country, as did the prodigal. God, the loving Father, is looking upon you. You may have spent all your talents in folly and sin, yet He is looking in love and is watching for your return. As soon as you show signs of repentance, even though you may be a great way off, at the heart cry, "I have sinned against Heaven and in Thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called Thy son," He will with great compassion and boundless mercy meet with you and restore you again to sonship and favor. You will hear His voice saying tenderly, "This, My son, was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found."

"He looketh upon men," realizing the full value of souls, sunk though they may be in ignorance and sin. He looks not for fame, or money, or honor, or education, or respectability, or a good moral life, which are all right in their place; but He is looking for sorrow for sin, confession of sin, forsaking of sin; and as sure as He finds this spirit He will bring the soul into liberty and the life into light.

What a glorious transformation that is, being brought out of darkness into light, out of bondage into liberty, from the far country to the Father's home, from want to plenty, out of misery into festivity and joy; nay, from death to life!

"He looketh upon men" to save them from going down into the pit. How keen His disappointment, how great His pain, when men refuse to repent and persist in their downward way! His delight is in mercy. "As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked."

"He looketh upon men" and sees their sorrows and their struggles. He knows all about their circumstances, their broken vows, their failures of the past, the doubts that have hindered them and filled their life with gloom. He is looking for a renewal of their covenant.

"He looketh upon men" and sees their works and how they have labored and have patience and have not fainted. He approves of much in their life, it may be, yet He discerns in some marked manner that they have left their first love, and says to them, "Remember!"

Can you not call up those wonderful days of your first love? What a spirit of holy, reckless daring then gripped you! What zeal, what self-denial, what thought for others, what earnest, believing prayer for souls, what diligent seeking for men away from God, what rejoicings and praise to God over victories won! God's cry to you is, "Remember, and repent, and do thy first works." If you will He will make you an overcomer, and "give you to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God."

FINDING THE LOST

Oh Saviour, Thou art all to me,
Grace Thou dost give, and liberty;
My cleansed heart is filled with love
While journeying to my Home above.

What though the devil's power is great,
And through his wiles e'en would frustrate
My aim: To live alone for Thee—
There's power enough, I know, for me.

O God! Who loved the world, and gave Thine only Son, Who died to save,
Help me to tell of love so great—
No guilty one need hesitate.

Around me in the depths of sin
Are many whom I fain would win:
Help me to bring them to the Blood,
Help them to plunge beneath its flood.

Oh! joy indeed in Heaven is found
When angels hear on earth the sound
Of sinners crying, "Save me now, While humbly at Thy feet I bow!"

To win the lost shall be my aim,
For self and sinner grace I claim,
I give myself again to Thee,
For now, and for Eternity.

—Mrs. Major Thomson (Java).

No. 6.—THE ASSOUAN DAM, EGYPT

WHEN the western nations turned their attention to Egypt, engineers were engaged to report on the cause of its decline. They looked with pity upon the squalor and poverty existing amid the mighty ruins that told their mute tale of the great things of the past, but their practical work showed that the unreliable Nile was at the root of the evil. The Nile would come down as a flood, sweeping all before it, to be followed by a season of low water, that was in turn remedied only by an abundance of rain in central Africa.

By 1890, British engineers studying Egyptian irrigation, had definitely decided that the storage of the river water at flood tide was the need. This was no easy task, as the water carried so much silt and mud that any

ANTS TAKE PRIDE in THEIR LOOKS

THIS INDUSTRIOUS INSECT IS MOST CLEANLY IN PERSONAL HABITS

IF YOU were told that ants possess brushes, fine and coarse tooth combs similar to the pattern of ours, you would doubt it. But the ant's body is covered with fine pubescence, which corresponds to the fur of animals. This is interspersed with bristles and spines which are sometimes jointed, and are so arranged as to aid materially in keeping the body clean. Particles of soil cling to this hairy covering, but the hair protects the body, keeping the dirt from the surface of the skin, allowing it to be shaken off easily. The brushing, washing and combing of this hairy coat constitute the insect's toilet making.

The tongue is one of the efficient articles of the toilet. Around the sides of this organ curves a series of ridges covered with hemispherical bosses. The ridges are hard, and thus are fitted for the uses of a comb. When eating, this comb rasps off minute pieces of food into sizes fitted to be taken into the stomach. For toilet purposes it serves as both sponge and brush, and takes up bits of dirt not otherwise removed. The ants use their tongues in the same manner as cats and dogs for lapping up food and licking clean the body.

One may often see an ant pause in the midst of her duties in the field and begin to comb herself. Suddenly she drops out of the gang of fellow workers, and climbing a nearby clod, stands upon her hind legs and brushes teeth, tongue and comb. Below she may see her companions working busily, but she combs on unconcernedly. From top of head to tip of hind legs she goes smoothing out ruffled hairs and removing atoms of dirt invisible to the eye. At last, having finished her toilet, she gives a few finishing strokes, rises, stretches herself and calmly climbs down her pedestal and is infected with the fervor which lashes on the surging throng around her.

DAYLIGHT SAVING FOR 1925

For the first time in the history of daylight saving in Canada, the three biggest Canadian municipal proponents of the system—Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa, have agreed on the same starting date for the season, Sunday morning, May 3.

Some other Canadian cities will adopt daylight saving time, but as a whole the dominion will retain the old time, and except as may be modified for local train services, the railways will also operate on standard time.

artificial storage reservoir would be filled up and become useless in a few years' time. Patient observation, however, had shown that the flood was practically clear by November, and remained clear until the following March, and that the mud and silt came down during the first two months of the flood.

Then the British engineers designed the most wonderful dam that has ever been built. It is known as the Assouan dam and will pass the entire flood waters for two months, and then close upon the precious torrent like a steel trap and block back the life-giving waters for millions of acres. The dam is 6,400 feet in width and when originally built was sixty-five feet high. It was completed in 1902 and since has been raised twice in 1907 and in 1912. The Assouan Dam cost ten million dollars to construct, and it has been the greatest factor in the restoration of prosperity to Egypt. The Egyptian Government signed a treaty whereby half-yearly payments are made for sixty years, to pay for the work.

25 Years' Progress

Striking Contrasts Shown by Roman Catholic Priest Declares Old-fashioned Truth

YEAR-BY-YEAR statistics of Canadian growth and progress are substantial, but not impressive. It is when a quarter of a century is viewed in perspective that the Dominion's great strides become apparent.

In the 1925 edition of Mr. Frank Veigh's "Five Thousand Facts About Canada," a table has been included which makes such a comparison.

From it the following striking contrasts are included:

Agricultural production, 1900-01, $364,906,866; 1924-25, $1,342,122,000.

Trade with U.S., 1900-01, $135,677,859; 1924-25, $1,031,963,991.

Trade with U.K., 1900-01, $175,361,579; 1924-25, $513,644,472.

Manufacturing production, 1900-01, $481,053,375; 1924-25, $2,439,843,766.

Life insurance, $481,069,846; 1924-25, $3,433,508,673.

Allowance must of course be made for the fact that fifty cents in 1900 had the same buying power as a dollar in 1925.

Hell is Real

Roman Catholic Priest Declares Old-fashioned Truth

"I AM well aware that Hell is not very popular to-day. It never was," observed Rev. Father Donnelly, C.S.B., in Toronto recently.

"Lots of other things people do not like are real. Smallpox is not very popular, but the fact that we do not like it does not drive it out of existence, does it? Cancer is a reality, and because we do not like it, it does not make it any the less real. The world is full of miseries, of suffering. Those who disclaim most about Hell take the stand that God is too merciful to allow such a place to exist. All the miseries and suffering of the world from the fall of Adam to the present day have been allowed by God, who is merciful.

"Those who believe in the Scriptures know that all these miseries are the result of sin. If there had been no sin, earth would have remained a paradise as it was before Adam fell. As it is, with Adam sin entered the world, and with sin came death."

General Secretary's Notes

CAPTAIN KING, of Grand Bank, has been laid aside with influenza, but he is now recovering.

The Home League members of Deer Lake are planning for a Sale of Work, the proceeds of which will go towards the completion of the new Hall. Deer Lake Comrades have done well. They have erected a Quarters and Hall within three months, and upon this effort is over both buildings will be clear of debt.

Captain Hewitt has built a new Quarters at King's Point. This is a splendid accomplishment.

Adjutant and Mrs. Carter have raised over $600.00 towards a new Hall at Humbermouth. As soon as the weather breaks the foundation will be laid for the new building. They have also built a fine Quarters at Humbermouth.

The Comrades at Grigout have just purchased a large house to be used as a Quarters; it will be pulled down, and re-erected near the Hall; also a school is to be erected.

The Comrades at Hickman's Harbor have purchased a fine house adjoining our present building. This will be used as a Quarters, and a school will be erected on the land.

Arrangements have been made to open six new Corps at the next change. In some of these places the people are already erecting Halls and Quarters for the Officers.

God has blessed the "Dog Team Troupe" of the Officers to the small place in a marvelous way. The Colonel has decided that next year a greater campaign will be undertaken.

The Home League Members of St. John's, in conjunction with members of the League of Mercy, have allowed a bed in the Grace Maternity Hospital which will permit them handling twenty-six poor patients to the Hospital each year. The League Week, in St. John's, was a great success, and at the annual meeting, when the report was read, there was a packed house.

HARBOR GRACE Captain Campbell

The General Secretary, accompanied by Adjutant Cornick, conducted recent week-end Meetings at Harbor Grace, where two lantern services were given. The Meetings on Sunday were of a very interesting character, and brought much blessing. A splendid fighting force of young people take a delight in the fight. On Wednesday night SIX were forward and one young woman was enrolled as a Soldier on Sunday afternoon.

HUMBERMOUTH Adjutant and Mrs. Carter

On a recent Sunday we had a great manifestation of the power of God, when THIRTEEN men came to the Corps. We have secured two Candidates.

Sub-Territorial Commander COLONEL THOMAS CLOUD

Springdale St., St. John's, Nfld.

COMMANDANT SAMUEL BISHOP

ON TUESDAY, February 3rd, Commandant Samuel Bishop received the Home Call from Rosbury Hospital, Mass., after serving as an Officer in New England States for a number of years.

A large crowd of his former Comrades and friends attended the Funeral Service, which was conducted by Colonel McIntyre in the People's Palace, Boston. The service opened with the singing of a favorite hymn, "Oh, Boundless Salvation," and Brigadier Walter Mabce, commenting on it, said, "There is a 'Hallelujah' in the verse which was characteristic of our late Comrade's life." Brigadier Suit led in prayer.

Colonel McIntyre related the career of our Comrade, who came out of Bay Roberts, Newfoundland, and was accepted for service in 1892. He served in his native island for eighteen years at the following Corps: St. John's, Labrador, Garrison, Gooseberry Island, Jackson's Cove, Tilt Cove, Little Bay, Halls Harbor, Old Perlican, Caribou, Western Bay, New Bay, Phillip's Island, Burlington, Grand Bank, Bonne Bay, Botwood, Exploits and Gambo. He was then transferred to New England, and served in succession at Boston, Me.; Rochester, N.H.; Newburyport, Mass.; Nashua, N.H.; Berlin, N.H.; Waltham, Mass.; Hingham, Mass. His last Corps was East Boston.

The Colonel spoke of his quiet confidence, his amiability and his zeal and earnestness. Of him it could be said that he was faithful, loyal, hard-working and willing. As a young Officer he served as a Lieutenant on the missionary ship "Glad Tidings," which worked among the fishermen.

In the hospital the nurses spoke of his patience; and his death, like his life, was "quiet, unassuming and beautiful." These were the words used by the nurse in referring to his death; and Colonel McIntyre remarked upon their impressiveness.

The Colonel expressed the sincere sympathy of Mrs. McIntyre and the Staff for Mrs. Bishop, Lieutenant Lillian Bishop, a daughter and two sons.

References to the life and character of Commandant Bishop were made by Brother Adams, whom the Commandant had influenced for good, Adjutant Henderson, of North Adams, and Brigadier Cleveland, of Holyoke. Mrs. Commandant Bishop spoke very briefly of the devotion of her husband, and alluded to the fact that no sacrifice was too great for him to make for The Salvation Army, which he loved to his death.

Brigadier Mabce sang very beautifully "There's no Night There," and the New England Staff Band, under the direction of Edwin Erie Leiden, played.

Commandant Bishop was buried at Forest Hills Cemetery. Brigadier Mabce reading the Committal Service, while Adjutant James Ashby prayed.

Under The Army Flag, which he loved so well, and in The Salvation Army plot, at Forest Hills, Commandant Bishop rests from his labors, but the influence shed abroad by this consecrated Comrade will continue for many a day.

CAMPBELLTON Adjutant and Mrs. Robbins

Adjutant Robbins reports that things are on the up-grade in this District. At Campbellton on Sunday last ONE soul surrendered. At St. John's, where Lieutenant Thistle is in charge, the people attend the Meetings in good numbers. The Lieutenant accompanied the Adjutant to Salt Pond, where Captain Downey is deeply interested in her work. The service was attended by a large crowd, and ONE man and eight and fourpence. On February 13th, Comfort Cove was visited, where an enrollment took place and nine juniors and seniors took their stand under The Flag. Commandant Morgan and Captain Fletcher are doing well, and good progress has been made in all branches of the work. After visiting Comfort Cove the Commandant returned again to Campbellton, where EIGHT souls surrendered. On Tuesday, the 17th, the Commandant conducted a wedding at Comfort Cove, following which a Soldier was enrolled. Last week-end we had the joy of seeing NINETEEN souls at the Corps. There is conviction in all Meetings and we are praying and looking for even greater victories.

DEER LAKE Captain Martin, Captain Fizzard

We are having some glorious Meetings. On Sunday last we had the joy of seeing EIGHT seekers at the mercy-seat. The crowds are keeping up, and everything bids fair for a great awakening.

LA SCIE

Captain W. Porter

The Home League has been re-organized and the Local Officers commissioned. We are having special Meetings and God is rewarding our faith and work. Self-Denial has been launched, and there are prospects of victory. The Young People's Campaign was a great success.

BOTWOOD

Commandant and Mrs. Jones A special effort resulted in $45.00. We have had NINE conversions during the month, made nine Recruits and enrolled one Soldier. Commandant Earle, our District Officer, recently paid us a visit. The Commandant, accompanied by Commandant Jones, visited Peter's Arm, and conducted a very profitable Meeting. Captain Abbott, the Corps Officer, and her Comrades, gave them a very hearty welcome. The Bandsmen and Local Officers have just received their commissions and have taken up their duties heartily. Some of the leading men of the town have shown a practical application of our Band. "Onward" is our motto.

KING'S POINT Captain and Mrs. Hewitt

Self-Denial is in full swing, and the Corps is in good condition; every branch of the work is progressing. The Life-Saving Guards conduct the Thursday night Meeting, and are creating great interest. Recently a backslider for twenty-five years came to Christ.

GRAND BANK

Adjutant and Mrs. Marsh

The Young People's Campaign at this place has exceeded our expectations, a great awakening has taken place amongst the young people and hundreds have been converted. Weekly Holiness Meetings are conducted by Captain Burridge, one of the teachers, and there is a possibility of Grand Bank possessing one of the largest Corps Cadet Brigades in Newfoundland. Captains Burridge and King, the two teachers, worked hard on the Young People's Campaign. We have just had our first enrollment, when fifty were enrolled. At the close of this Meeting TWELVE were converted.

ST. ANTHONY BIGHT Captain A. Rideout

There has been a spiritual awakening in this place and FORTY conversions have been recorded with twelve Soldiers enrolled. Self-Denial has been launched, and the prospects are bright. The Soldiers who have been enrolled are manifesting the real Army spirit and they are getting into uniform.

LUSHE'S BIGHT

Ensign and Mrs. Porter

This Corps is making satisfactory progress. There is one Cadet in the Training Church at the present time, and two more are preparing for the next session. The Soldiers are interested, and souls are getting converted.

GARNISH

Captain and Mrs. Mercer

On a recent Sunday morning THIRTY-THREE came forward for the Blessing. At night THIRTEEN were converted and throughout the week souls were saved at every Meeting. On the following Sunday EIGHTEEN came forward for Salvation. The number of conversions to date is forty-three and of this number twenty are young men. Sunday night last we added eight more Soldiers to the roll, six young men and two married women, making a total of thirteen enrolled and fifteen ready for enrollment. We have a Corps Cadet Brigade of twenty. The Home League numbers thirty-three members and at the last Spiritual Meeting, ONE got saved, and is now taking her stand as a Soldier. It is a wonderful sight to see the Band at the head of the march every night, and the people join in the procession with cheers under their arms to make sure that they will have a seat on arrival at the Hall.

TWILLINGATE

Commandant and Mrs. Canning

Recently FOUR souls got converted and three young men were enrolled. Among the batch that will be enrolled at Easter is the Commandant's son, Winston. It is a great joy to the parents to see their second son saved and sanctified.

UNITED HOLINESS MEETING

The Friday night Holiness Meeting at St. John's 1, conducted by the Colonel, was the best yet from a standpoint of attendance and interest. The large building was filled. A large number of out-poor Comrades were present. Very inappropriate words were spoken by the Colonel, while the whole congregation joined in prayer that God would protect our visiting Comrades who are leaving on a seal hunting expedition. TWO seekers were forward.

On Sunday night Colonel and Mrs. Cloud led a Meeting at St. John's 1. A splendid number were present, and SIX knelt at the mercy-seat.

ARMY MOTHER'S CHALLENGE

That Banging Door

A DOOR that has been left open and bangs monotonously is exceedingly annoying. There will be many troublesome doors now that gusty weather is beginning. The reason often is that the door does not close easily, because the latch is not running smoothly. To effect a remedy, obtain a feather and a bottle of sweet oil. In some locks there are small holes especially for oiling purposes. Dip the feather in the oil and then push it into the hole and twist it about. When no holes are to be found, put the oil feather into the key-hole and spread oil over the projecting part of the latch. Then turn the handle several times so that the oil works into the lock, which will run so easily that folks, even when in a hurry, will close the door after them.

About the Children

ENCOURAGE domestic tendencies in your little girls by teaching them never to neglect their dolls by allowing them to go untidy and uncared for. Accustom them to make a neat and if this is done, their love for the dollies will become of important educational value in later years.

Never bathe a child directly after it has been fed, for the doctors say there is great danger of its going into convulsions if it is put into water when the stomach is full and the food undigested. Most children enjoy a cup of hot cocoa in the morning for breakfast, and as it contains very many valuable properties, it is an excellent drink for them.

Preserve your Furniture

MANY housewives possess stained wood furniture which has become unsightly on account of the light patches appearing on it, the result of spills of one kind or another. It will be welcome news to such to learn that a new surface, as good as the original one, can be secured by painting the furniture over with permanganate of potash dissolved in sufficient water to make a deep purple fluid.

GOLDEN PUDDING

GOLDEN pudding made in this way can be eaten either hot or cold. Dissolve 4 oz. of butter, and stir into it 3 oz. of granulated sugar, 2 oz. of orange marmalade, 4 oz. of breadcrumbs, and the yolks of 2 eggs, well beaten. Pour the mixture into a buttered pie dish, and bake in a good oven for 30 minutes.

"WHO, since the personal manifestation and crucifixion of our Lord, have ever been His most numerous and faithful followers? On whom has the horrible persecution of past ages fallen with most virulence, if not on the sensitive heart of woman? And yet how rarely has she betrayed moral weakness by denying her Lord, or moral remoteness from Him by listening to the Tempter? Has she not, on the contrary, stood a noble witness for Christ in scenes and circumstances the most agonizing to her nature, and with Paul literally counted all things (even husband and children) but loss for His sake? And even now is she not in thousands of instances 'dying daily,' waging a silent, unostentatious conflict with evil and groaning under a tyranny, compared with which the flames of martyrdom would be welcome?"

NORTH SYDNEY HOME LEAGUE

Ensign Kettle, Commanding Officer, states that since the fire in January, 1924, when the Citadel and Quarters were destroyed, the Home League members have furnished a new Officers' Quarters completely, and for a piano, purchased electric fixtures for the Senior and Junior Halls and secured a full set of dishes for the League kitchen. They constantly plan ways and means of assisting the Corps. Small wonder that the Ensign asks, "Can any League of twenty-two members beat them?"

"The thing which, next to the revelation of the plan of Salvation, endears Christianity to my heart is, what it has done, and is destined to do, for my sex. And any attempt to deduce from its historical records or practical precepts, views, and doctrines derogatory thereto, I cannot but regard it with heartfelt regret.

"All man-made religions neglect or debase woman, but the religion of Christ recognizes her individuality and raises her to the dignity of an independent, moral agent. Under the Old Testament dispensation we have several instances of Jehovah choosing woman as a vehicle of His thoughts and the direct and authorized exponent of His will. And in the New Testament she is fully restored to her original position, it being expressly stated that in Christ Jesus there is neither male nor female, and the promise of the outpouring of the Spirit is no less to the handmaidens than to the servants of the Lord.

"A great deal of prejudice and many mistaken views on this subject arise from confounding woman's relative subjection with inferiority of nature, as though one depended on the other, whereas it appears to me entirely distinct. God, who had a right to determine the penalty for sin, has clearly defined and fixed a woman's domestic and social position, and, as a part of her curse. He has made it that of subjection, not, however, as a being, but only in a certain relationship subjection to her own husband. That was imposed upon her expressly as a punishment for sin, and not on the ground of inferiority, intellectual or moral.

"Here, however, the glorious provisions of Christianity come in to those who are united in Christ. The seed of the woman, having bruised the head of her old enemy, and taken the curse out of the way, nailing it to His cross, the wife may realize as blissful and perfect a oneness with her husband as though it had never been pronounced. For while the semblance of it remains, Jesus has beauti-

TORONTO WEST DIVISION (Brigadier Burrows)

WEST TORONTO (Adjutant and Mrs. Condie).—The excellent seasons of blessing and inspiration, with souls at the mercy-seat, already reported from this Corps have been followed again and again in recent weeks by happenings of the most God-honoring character. One has only to listen to a few testimonies such as constitute a feature in practically every Meeting here, or give heed to the prayers which are poured out unto Heaven with such convincing sincerity, to realize that you are among men and women fired with a zeal of no mean order; and all for the glory of God in the Salvation of souls. Comrades of ten, twenty, thirty and even forty years' Soldiership under The Flag unhesitatingly testify that they have never before experienced such seasons of all-round blessing and power as are now of frequent occurrence at West Toronto. No great crowd of flockers are bringing the pentecost-form, but thrives and five and seven have alternated with single individuals, struggling to find liberty at the mercy-seat, and the well-fought prayer-battles have been a joy to take part in.

Led on by our zealous and always-attentive Officers, Adjutant and Mrs. Condie, a very large percentage of the Soldiers is eagerly following up each victory by making it a stepping stone to another. Every bit of ground taken from the enemy is watched over, knowing he will try to get back what he has lost and more to it. Thus, the more the victory is marked increase in spiritual vitality and thirst.

Praying groups of Bandanians the last two Sunday evenings have wrestled with God upon their knees, a dozen or more at a time. Tears have poured down their cheeks and their faces aflame with joy. Sixteen candidates for baptism in the baptismal font were present in the Sunday's services, something altogether without precedent in this Corps' long history.

Last Sunday was a real hot day, for the half dozen who knelt at the mercy-seat much deserved to be so. One was an old Comrade who for years has been pined for without apparent result. His work in the pentecost-form was the signal for a burst of Holy Spirit and there he was, in the twinkling of an eye, with deep emotion, "I'm going through, I'll pay the price whatever others do!"—a big, strong man wept for joy.

Two enrolments of Soldiers, only two weeks apart, afford good indications as to the healing spirit which possesses the Comrades. Recently we had the report of a Soldier's wife who shortly he eligible for awarding in is most encouraging.

Young People's Sergeant-Major Rossiter, after years of good work, has had to vacate the post by reason of increasing demands upon her time and strength; the new Y.P. S. M. is Brother Petri, and he is already hard at work. Other branches of Corps work are showing good signs, one being "War Cry" selling. Last week Sister Mrs. Wilson, undeterred by two falls on the icy sidewalk, sold eighty copies. Kullig!

fully extracted the sting by making love the law of marriage, and by restoring the institution itself to its original sanctity. What wife would not be careful to reverence a husband who loves her as Christ loves the Church? Surely the honor put upon woman by the Lord, both in His example and precepts, should make His religion doubly precious to her, and render His sanctuary her safe refuge from everything derogatory or insulting to her nature!

"If it be only partially true those who rank the cradle rule the world, how much greater is the influence wielded over the mind of future ages by the mothers of the next generation than by all the young men living! Never, till woman is estimated and educated as men's equal—the literal 'she-man' of the Hebrews—will the foundation of human influence become pure, or the bias of mind noble and lofty."

TORONTO WEST DIVISION (Brigadier Burrows).

WEST TORONTO (Adjutant and Mrs. Condie).—The excellent seasons of blessing and inspiration, with souls at the mercy-seat, already stored from the Corps have been followed again and again in recent weeks by happenings of the most God-honoring character. One has only to listen to a few testimonies such as constitute a feature in practically every Meeting here, or give heed to the prayers which are poured out unto Heaven with such convincing sincerity, to realize that you are among men and women fired with a zeal of no mean order; and all for the glory of God in the Salvation of souls. Comrades of ten, twenty, thirty and even forty years' Solidarity under The Flag unhesitatingly testify that they have never before experienced such seasons of all-round blessing and power as are now of frequent occurrence at West Toronto. No great crowds of seekers are thronging the pentent-form, but three and five and seven have alternated with single individuals, struggling to find light at the mercy-seat, and the well-fought prayer-battles have been a joy to take part in.

Led on by our zealous and always-attentive Officers, Adjutant and Mrs. Condie, a very large percentage of the Soldiers is eagerly following up each victory by making it a stepping stone to another. Every bit of ground taken is being watched over, knowing he will try to get back what he has lost and more on a marked increase in spiritual supplies and thrust.

Fraying groups of Bandsmen the last two Sunday evenings have wrestled with God upon their knees, a dozen or more at a time; tears have poured down their cheeks and wetted the chairs and floor, and then these men have risen to their feet and linking hands have joined in praise to God, their faces aflame with joy. Sixteen Candidates have taken part in Candidates' Sunday services something altogether without precedent in this Corps' long history.

Last Sunday was a red-hot day. Of the half-dozen who knelt at the mercy-seat much desire to see and know one of our old Comrades who for years has been braved for without apparent result. His walk to the pentent-form was the signal for a burst of "Hallelujahs" and glory be to God from many hearts. When he in the crowd in testimony with deep emotion, "I'm going through, I'll pay the price whatever others say," big, strong man went for joy.

Two enrolments of Soldiers, only two weeks apart, afford good indication as to the fastening of spirit which possesses the Comrades. Recently won, and the number of other Recruits who will shortly be eligible for swearing-in is most encouraging.

Young People's Sergeant-Major Rosseter, after years of good work, has had to vacate the post by reason of increasing demands upon her time and strength; the new Y.P.S.M. is Brother Peter and he is already hard at work.

Other branches of Corps work are showing good signs, one being "War Cry" selling. Last week Sister Mrs. Wilson, underwritten by two falls on the fly side-wheel, sold eighty copies. Hallelujah!

fully extracted the sting by making love the law of marriage, and by restoring the institution itself to its original sanctity. What wife would not be careful to reverence a husband who loves her as Christ loves the Church? Surely the honor put upon woman by the Lord, both in His example and precepts, should make His religion doubly precious to her, and render His sanctuary her safe refuge from everything derogatory or insulting to her nature!

"If it be only partially true those who rock the cradle rule the world, how much greater is the influence wielded over the mind of future age by the mothers of the next generation than by all the young men in it! Never till woman is estimated and educated as man's equal—the literal 'she-man' of the Hebrews—will the foundation of human influence become pure, or the bias of mind noble and lofty."

HELP US FIND!

A BARGAIN

Never before has the Trade Department been able to offer to Salvationists such a genuine bargain in Spring and Fall Ladies' Uniform Coats as this.

We have just completed a deal which enables us to sell a limited number of genuine serge Ladies' Overcoats at a price well within the reach of every Salvationist.

These coats are made of fairly heavy blue serge. They are smartly cut, as our picture shows, and are just the thing for Spring and Fall wear.

There are a limited number of these, so to avoid disappointment, order at once.

Price $15.00

Carriage paid to any part of the Territory.

When ordering, state clearly bust measurement and height.

LADIES SUMMER HATS

This year we are offering these in a better quality than ever before. The best quality Summer Hat is a GENUINE ITALIAN MILAN, fine straw, and is especially shaped to fit the head.

Price $5.00.

The cheaper quality is also a very fine hat. Shaped like the better quality, and made of a beautiful straw. Note the reduction of price, in these, sold at $3.50 heretofore—this year.

Price $3.00.

A Fresh Supply of Scout Poles

We have just received a large supply of beautiful Hardwood Scout Poles. Scout Poles have always been 35 cents, but our reduced price is 30 cents.

WITH THE FLAG IN KINGSTON

tributed. Brother Edward Goodridge leads this Class. The Company Meeting, which formerly averaged seven, now totals one hundred and sixteen. The "Banner" system, to induce more generous giving and regular attendance, is used to good advantage. Seventeen Companies are in operation and staffed with uniformed Company Guards. Sister Mrs. Tidman — the Cradle Roll Sergeant — has twenty-eight babies on the Roll who are carefully shepherded and ultimately will be guided into the Primary Class.

"The Band and Songsters, under Bandmaster Otten and Songster Fraser respectively, are an asset to our Corps."

It is impossible to mention more than one or two representatives in this brief review.

Mrs. Ensign Boshier, Lieutenant Ritchie and Kingston Corps Cadet Brigade

SERGEANT - MAJOR WOOCOCK was "born again" at a seven o'clock Knee-Drill when Commandant Coy was in command. For twenty-two years he has been a "pillar" in the Kingston Corps, and for fifteen years he has occupied his present position. He revels in Open-Air work and has witnessed splendid drum-head conversions. One of these — an escaped convict from New York — following conversion, surrendered himself to the American Consul and was deported to finish his term. Letters were received during his incarceration which assured the Sergeant-Major that he was maintaining Soldier of The Army for two decades. His onerous duties as Treasurer naturally occupy much of his thought but not to the exclusion of higher and nobler thoughts; he enters with vigor and heartiness into all spiritual projects and delights to lead seekers to the Saviour. He is reliable and trustworthy and also a loving father. His family, too, are willing workers in the Corps. One son is a bandsman, and two daughters are Guards. One of the Corps' veterans is SISTER MRS. BATTERSHILL, who was when the "fighting was tough could unfold many a tale of tragedy. Her Corps duties are manifold. She visits the Prison, the Jail, the House of the Old People's Home, the Insane Asylum, and is a "cry" boomer. Twenty-two years ago BROTHER JARRELL gave himself to God, and for nineteen years he has held the commission of Recruiting Sergeant. Much of his time is occupied in Jail work, and tangible results have accrued from his much-loved work. One sister, who was converted in Jail, is now an Army Officer, while a brother, who was similarly won, is a "War Cry" boomer in Toronto. With the assistance of various Comrades, Brother Jarrell conducts a service in the Jail every Sunday morning. Every discharged prisoner has a practical friend in him for there is not a need that they make known but he will make an attempt to meet it. As a "fisher" and Prayer Meeting worker he is a tower of strength. BANDMASTER OTTEN is a Londoner by birth and was converted at the age of seven. He commenced to learn an instrument when a Junior, and soon found a place in the Senior Band. He served during the war with the 20th Battalion and, for three years, he has occupied the post of Bandmaster. His civil occupation is that of an Instructor in the Kingston Penitentiary, in which position he has ample opportunity of demonstrating Christian principles.

Like David, CORPS SECRETARY GOODRIDGE as a lad, was a shepherd, and while minding the sheep he heard the Call of God. His day's work over, he attended a Meeting in the Methodist Church and gave his heart to God. That was on March 10th, 1889. For six years he remained a Methodist and then cast in his lot with The Army at Salisbury, England. In 1906 he settled in Kingston and from that time until the present day he has abundantly proven God's dealings to be wise and merciful. His wife is the Home League Treasurer, and three daughters and one son are following in his footsteps.
